THE DAILY GLOBE, TORONTO. MONDAY JULY 13TH. 1863.

(FROM THE BELLEVILLE INTELLIGENCER.)

STORM DATE. EVENING, WED. JULY 8TH. 1863.

VIOLENT STORM.

One of the most violent storms we ever witnessed, passed over this town on Wednesday evening, the 8th. inst. The wind blew a perfect hurricane, levelling fences, prostrating crops, and blowing down trees in every direction. The wind storm lasted about ten or fifteen minutes, and was succeeded by a heavy thunder shower. A large quantity of rain fell, which will do a great deal of good to the growing crops. Beyond the levelling of fences and destruction of fruit trees, we have not heard of much damage done by the storm. BELLEVILLE INTELLIGENCER.
