BUILDING BLOWN OVER TALL TREE

Wreckage of Houses and Barns Strewn More Than Mile

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Winnipeg, May 11.—Great damage to farm property, power transmission lines which supply the city of Winnipeg and telephone and telegraph lines resulted from the cyclone which swept over the districts of Sinnott, Lydia and Golden Bay, about thirty miles east of this city, yesterday afternoon.

The force of the storm tore farm buildings from their foundations, in many instances carrying the wreckage for more than a mile, levelled trees to the ground, and did great damage generally. On one farm near Sinnott five buildings were destroyed, with an estimated damage of $7,000. Farm machinery, caught in the full blast of the wind, was twisted; a fanning mill was picked up and carried one mile, and storm windows were torn from the houses and, along with pieces of woodwork, carried 700 yards and driven into the ground.

At another farm the wind picked up the barn and carried it clear of the foundations and smashed it into a scarcely recognizable wreck. A small smokehouse was carried 400 yards, over the top of 40-foot poplars.

CYCLONE WRECKS WINNIPEG LINES

Long Stretches of Telegraph Poles Levelled by Terrific Wind

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Winnipeg, May 10.—Striking with extreme suddenness, a cyclone, travelling east, crossed the Canadian Pacific Railway System at Beausejour this afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock. The effect was felt for fully 30 minutes, according to the report submitted to the Canadian Pacific officials in Winnipeg later by the agent at Beausejour.

Long stretches of telegraph poles were levelled, and the wires of the Winnipeg Electric Railway and city of Winnipeg were entangled in a mass that fell to the ground. Steps were taken at once to send a relief train to the scene of the cyclone's wreckage.

No loss of life has been reported. As a result of the storm, Winnipeg was cut off from telegraphic communication with Eastern Canada.

SAVINGS AND PANS SCATTERED BY WIND

Victims of Manitoba Cyclone Lose Everything Except Their Lives

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Winnipeg, May 12.—Five persons, victims of Wednesday's cyclone which struck eastern Manitoba villages, were brought to the hospital here today suffering from innumerable bruises and internal injuries. They are: S. Pitre of Lauderville, his wife and two daughters, and A. Pitre, a brother.

The family is literally penniless. Everything, even to the little money saved, has been blown far and wide, and there is not enough left of their home to start a decent kitchen fire. Kitchen utensils belonging to the family have been found two miles from their home.

A small cyclone is reported to have passed over Rosenfeld, Man., southwest of this city, last night. No casualties resulted, but slight property damage occurred. Several buildings were partially wrecked, including an empty house, which was torn from its foundations.
