Date : October ? , 1904

Time : Evening (supper hour)

Location : Biddulph Township, Middlesex County

F-Rating : Not Rated. Likely F2-F3

Track Length : Estimated 10km

Max Width : “Narrow”

Direction : ~270° (W-E)

Shape : “A Funnel Shaped Cloud” “...it rose like a terrible black mass against the sky, and was whirling about with frightful velocity.” “it had an ugly look”

Injuries : 2 (minor)

Deaths : 0 (a number of birds)

Damage Cost : One and a half storey solid brick house ~70% destroyed, a few others damaged to varying degrees, barns and sheds demolished, crops and orchards damaged or destroyed, hundreds of trees downed, swaths of bush levelled, large debris hurled, missiles generated.

Notes **:
Thomas Abbott (Chapel Line, east of Hodgins)
William Toohey (east of Abbott, Chapel Line)
(Dennis Heenan’s Orchard)(near Toohey?)
Cedar Vale Swamp (near Fallon?)(clearly defined swath of downed trees)

Granton Area:?
“Mr. Thos. Squires, whose farm is on the west side of the village.”
Roof of building carried across to “Mr. Horace German’s home” (chimneys knocked down, damage to home, roof partially ripped off barn)
Ontario House roof ripped off and flung into trees across street to Mrs. Cameron’s house.

Mr. J. E. Murray's house nearly hit. Large, well-built stable destroyed into a row of splintered lumber strewn onto the adjacent lot.

Photos/Videos : Damage photos in newspaper.