10TH AUG 1859

The Brockville Monitor says that on Wednesday evening a frightful storm of hail and wind passed over Brockville. The hail descended in a perfect avalanche; large trees were blown down, several windows broken by the hail, fences levelled with the ground, and gardens spoiled in all directions. A sail boat with three boys in it, R. Poulton, J. Kincaid, and a lad from the country, was upset in front of the town, on the St. Lawrence. The boys clung to the bottom of the boat, and were rescued from their perilous position by J. Myers, who lives in the Block House, and who bravely pushed out in a punt to their assistance, despite
