TORNADO, DUNDALK DISTRICT, ONTARIO.

THE GLOBE AND MAIL, TORONTO, SATURDAY AUGUST 21ST. 1937.

STORM DATE. FRI. AUG. 20TH. 1937.

BABY CYCLONE GETS PERSONAL.

TWISTER, NEAR DUNDALK, CONFINES ITS OPERATIONS TO ONE FARM.

DUNDALK, AUG. 20. (Special). A hangover from yesterday's Province-wide storm dropped down in this district today in the shape of a baby cyclone, that tore the roof from a barn on the farm of CECIL MELDRUM, nine miles north of here; ripped up a considerable amount of standing grain and broke down several telephone poles and trees.

The twister, which lasted only about ten minutes, was apparently confined to the section immediately surrounding MR. MELDRUM'S farm, and no other damage was reported. As well as tearing the roof from the MELDRUM barn, the wind shifted the building from its foundations. It was accompanied by torrential rains.
