STORM DATE. "TUESDAY NIGHT" MAY 19TH. 1959.

TWISTER RAKES ALLISTON, LEVELS BUILDINGS, TREES,

GREENHOUSE, CROP DAMAGE IS $15,000.

TORONTO (CP), Hail shattered more than 8,000 panes of glass in greenhouses belonging to four brothers from NASHVILLE, 20 miles northwest of here, Tuesday night.

HOWARD, HARVEY, ROBERT and JOHN BURBIDGE estimated the damage at $15,000, including loss of tomato crops on their adjoining property.

Fierce storms also swept through farmlands near COBURG, 35 miles east of OSHAWA. Two barns were struck by lightning and destroyed by fire. Damage was estimated at $22,000.

TORNADO-LIKE WINDS.

Heavy rains lashed much of SOUTHERN ONTARIO Tuesday. Tornado-like winds whirled through areas near GUELPH, 45 miles west of TORONTO, and ALLISTON, 30 miles northwest of Toronto. A barn was destroyed and a house and three other barns damaged.

Hail fell in the THORNHILL and WILLOWDALE areas just north of TORONTO.

TORNADO

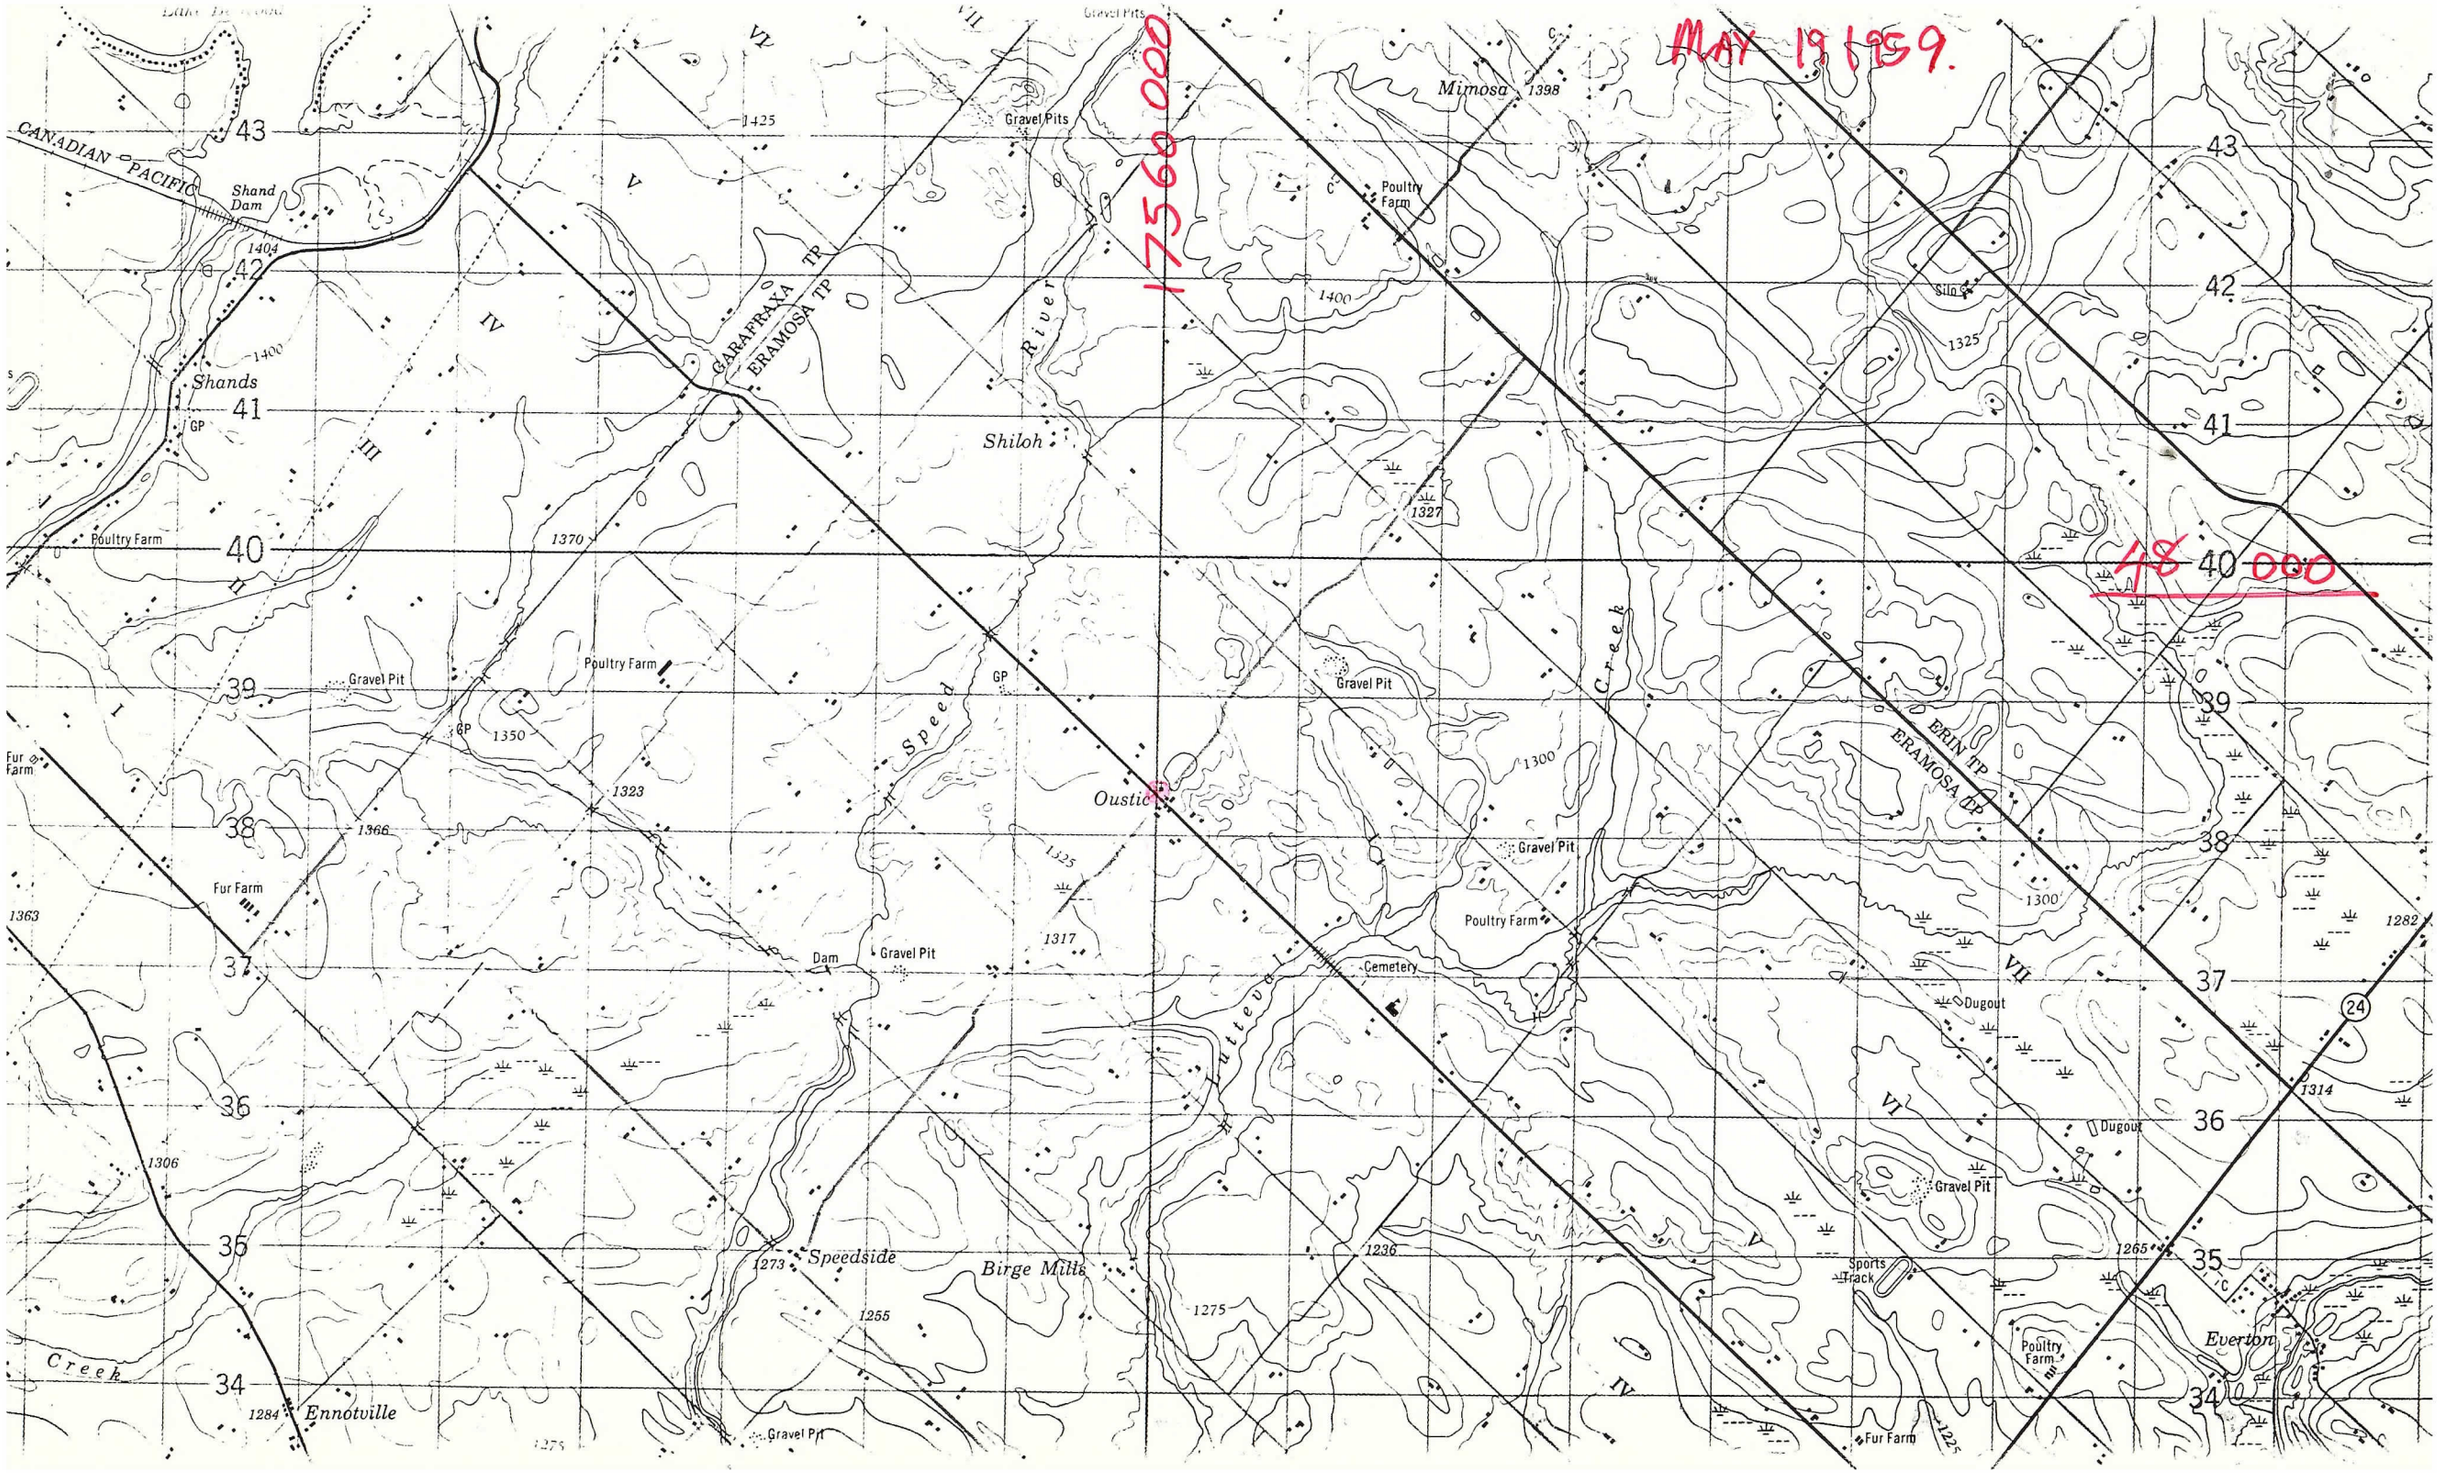

Residents at OUSTIC, a village 15 miles northwest of GUELPH, said a funnel-shaped cloud dipped from the sky Tuesday and scattered debris from two barns on a farm.

One side of a two-storey brick house belonging to HOMER McMANN, near ALLISTON, was shattered by the storm and the roof and one side of his barn ripped off.

A mile east, the twister levelled a barn on the farm of CLIFTON WILLIAMS. Trees were uprooted and power lines knocked down.

Heavy fog covered the ORILLIA area last night slowing highway traffic to a crawl, and blanketing the town in banks.

However, the local police department and the Orillia detachment of the OPP report no car accidents as a result of the fog.
